Death of O. L. Woods

O. L. Woods died last Friday morning, at about 10 o'clock, after an illness of three weeks, having been taken ill from an attack of acute indigestion. On the following Monday he sustained a shock, from which he never rallied. At times he appeared to be conscious, but during all the days of his illness he was unable to speak or scarcely move.

Oscar L. Woods, son of Abel and Rosanna Pierce Woods, was born in Waterbury April 27, 1850. He lived in Cambridge until coming to this place in 1877, where he engaged in the tailoring business, which trade he had since followed continuously up to the time of his illness. November 28, 1878, he was united in marriage to Miss Adaline Bennett of Cambridge and to this union was born two sons, one who died in infancy and Roy B. Woods, who with Mrs. Woods survive him.

The deceased was a man of quiet disposition and by his genial ways and courteous manner made many friends—in fact everybody liked "Oscar" and none could say aught against him. He was an active member of the Congregational Brotherhood and also of the United Workers of that church. He took deep interest in the work of the Brotherhood, and gave his best service to whatever duty he was called upon to perform. He will be deeply missed at the social gatherings of the United Workers, where his services have seemed indispensable, it having been his custom for several years to assist in seating, welcoming and serving the people at the church suppers.

The funeral was largely attended from his late home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. W. E. Baker of the Cong'l church officiating. Mt. Vernon Lodge, F. & A. M., of which deceased had been a long time member, attended the funeral in a body—some fifty members thus showing their regard for their deceased brother. B. J. Kelley was the funeral director. The flowers, silent tokens of highest esteem, completely covered the casket. They included a pillow from Mt. Vernon Lodge, a spray from the United Workers of the Congregational church and a wreath from the Brotherhood.

The remains were taken on the morning train Monday to Cambridge, where interment was made. The bearers were four brothers-in-law.

Besides his wife and son, Mr. Woods is survived by one brother, Horace S. Woods, of Ontario, Cal.

Among those from out of town to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Zerah Bennett of New Haven, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Patch, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Patch, B. J. McJoy and Fred Stone of Cambridge, Noble Bennett of Essex Junction, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard and Dr. Leonard of Lyndon.

Stafford-Truax

Miss Frances B. Truax, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Truax of Shelburne, and Guy C. Stafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. A. Stafford of this place, were quietly married at the home of C. E. Hall in Swanton last Wednesday evening, Rev. N. O. Bowlby of that place performing the ceremony.

The bride is well and favorably known here, having been employed in the office of the Warren Leather Co. for two years. The groom was a graduate of Peoples Academy in the class of '08, latter taking a course in the Bryant & Stratton Business College in Boston, since which time he has been associated with his father and brother in the lumber business under the firm name of C. H. A. Stafford & Sons.

After an automobile trip through the northern part of the state Mr. and Mrs. Stafford will reside in Worcester.

Both bride and groom are popular young people and have many friends who extend congratulations and best wishes.

Calkins--Broadwell

The marriage of Everett Calkins and Miss Carrie Broadwell took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Broadwell, in Hyde Park Tuesday morning, Rev. W. R. Hamlin performing the ceremony in the presence of a few of the immediate relatives. The bride was becomingly dressed in a traveling suit of blue and was attended by her friend, Miss Grace Blake. Frank Calkins, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for Caspian Lake and other points of interest. On their return next week they will take up their residence in Cady's Falls, where the groom is engaged in business with his father, A. H. Calkins. Both bride and groom are well known here where they have many friends, who join in the heartiest of congratulations.

A Morristown Poor Farm?

The matter of purchasing the Chas. Shaw farm for a poor farm will be considered at town meeting next Saturday. It is thought by some that the town would make no mistake in purchasing this property, which would be a very desirable one for the purpose proposed, while others are "dead again it." Attend the meeting and voice your own opinion.
